AICTTRA 2025

AICTTRA'25 is unarguably a premier national and international multi-conference for academics, educators, and practitioners in computer science and engineering, management information systems, library science, cybersecurity, data science, artificial intelligence, information systems, software engineering, and information and communication technology (ICT) to share innovative ideas, explore research collaboration opportunities and share experience on a variety of computing and ICT-driven topics. The conference is significant to many African nations, particularly Nigeria, at this time when ICT has a presence, and the impact needs to be felt extensively in teaching, research, and administration. Thus, this 18th edition of AICTTRA 2025 is strategic towards eliciting and harnessing various views from authors for presentation.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES AND PUBLICATION

We invite authors to submit original and unpublished work in the form of full papers and extended abstracts. A full paper should be 4-8 pages long, and the accepted full papers will be presented as presentations at the conference. The length of an extended abstract should be around 1-2 pages, and the accepted extended abstracts will be presented at the conference as posters (A1 size).

Novel research in all practical areas of the subthemes are welcome. Submissions from academia, government, and industry are encouraged. All accepted papers will be included in the AICTTRA'25 conference proceedings. Extended versions of outstanding papers will be considered for publication in the reputable Ife Journal of Information and Communication Technology. Authors of full paper should check the plagiarism status of their paper before submission. Note that the maximum acceptable similarity index is 15%

All submissions must follow the IEEE formatting instructions and must be submitted electronically in MS Word(doc.) format to the email: locaicttra@oauife.edu.ng

A Zoom presentation will be arranged for authors who are hesitant to travel in the year 2025. However, we strongly encourage physical participation.
